FLYING PARSON AGAIN IN LEAD

LIEUT. MAYNARD TODAY EXPECTS TO REACH GOAL

Was Only 518 Miles From San Francisco Friday Night

HAS FLOWN 24 HOURS

Dehaviland Four Covers 2,183 Miles Of Distance Across Continent

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, NEV., Oct. 11.—Lieut. B. W. Maynard, leading the flyers westward bound, arrived at Battle Mountain control at 8:03 a. m. today from Saiduro. He left Battle Mountain for Reno at 8:07 a. m.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Major Carl Spatz and Lieut E. C. Kiel bound eastward in the trans-continental air race, arrived at Curtis field during a downpour of rain shortly before noon.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Oct. 11.—Lieut. B. W. Maynard, leader in the aerial derby hoped to complete his coast to coast flight today.

He landed at Salduro, Utah, last night after a half day of flying from Cheyenne, Wyoming.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The first leg of the trans-continental aerial race was expected to end on this, the fourth day.

Five planes—three eastbound and two westbound—were in position to complete their coast to coast flight. Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "sky pilot" took the lead late yesterday in a night flight from Salt Lake to Salduro, Utah. He was outdistanced by the three leading eastward flyers when his plane was held at Cheyenne, Wyoming, by engine trouble. On reaching Salt Lake City, he decided to continue and went on to Salduro, making his total distance 2183 miles in about 24 actual flying time hours. He is now only 518 miles from San Francisco.

Following Maynard is Lieut. H. C. Drayton, who was last reported at Rawlins, Wyoming, having covered a total of 1809 miles.

The three leading eastbound flyers had reached Bryan, Ohio, having covered a total of 2051 miles and being only 132 miles behind Maynard. They are Major Carl Spatz, Captain L. H. Smith and Lieut. Kiel. The five leaders were all piloting Dehaviland fours, equipped with Liberty motors.

The fifth death in the race occurred late yesterday at Buffalo when Lieut. Worth McClure, observer for Major A. L. Sneed, was thrown from the airplane when it made a bad landing. Sneed was only slightly hurt.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11.—Major Carl Spatz, bound east in the trans-continental air derby arrived here at 8:20 this morning from Bryan, O.

Lieut. E. C. Kiel landed at Martin field at 8:34. He said in flying from Bryan, O., he was forced to travel low because of the heavy mist covering the ground and on several occasions dodged church steeples by narrow margins.

Kiel said he believed that Captain L. H. Smith, third of the eastbound flyers to reach Bryan, was forced to land somewhere between Bryan and Cleveland. Martin field officials sent out a general call for traces of Smith.

Kiel got away from Buffalo at 9:17. Captain Smith was forced to land at Warrensville, O., 7 miles from Cleveland, by rain and a heavy mist.

In landing, he smashed his propeller and struts. Smith motored to Martin field for a supply of parts.

County Fair Ends Abruptly In Near Panic Late Friday

The sixty-eighth annual Coshocton-co fair ended in a wild hegira Friday afternoon at 4:40 when a stiff windstorm struck the grove sheltering the midway and many of the exhibits at Fairlawn park. Trees creaked and swayed under the gale that whipped dust and varicolored papers into a frenzied fury while canvas tents strained at their moorings and snapped menacingly.

In the rush of humanity toward the outskirts of the grove femininity clutched nervously at skirts bent on reversing their natural position and hawkers of the familiar carnival wares hurriedly assembled their belongings for protection against the rainstorm that threatened.

Pausing in the midst of the confusion bystanders saw an aged, tho agile woman lift her eyes, shielded by a withered hand, as she peered thru the waving boughs and searched the heavens for some assuring sign that the storm would spare that particular spot.

A blind beggar, heavily goggled, shifted uneasily upon his chair nearby, while the doleful air from the worn strings of the instrument became ever more spasmodic and out of rhythm.

As tho it were a signal from his orchestral leader he stopped short as a great tree snapped and groaned under a fiercer blast, and, gathering his fiddle box in one arm and his chair in the other he clutched his glasses in twitching fingers and glided a swift, zigzag course thru the fleeing mass to the outer gate while the old lady's eyes popped out in righteous amazement.

"It do beat all, don't it?" she was heard to mutter as she turned away.

GOVERNMENT PLANS WHOLESALE RAIDS ON LIQUOR JOINTS

Prohibition Enforcement Act Will Be Law Within Ten Days—Wilson May Veto Bill As Too Drastic, But Congress Would Pass It Over His Veto, Is Belief.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Wholesale raids upon liquor dealers were being planned by the government today.

Within 10 days, the prohibition enforcement legislation probably will be law. It makes illegal the sale of liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol. This puts into the hands of Attorney General Palmer the power for which he has been waiting before prosecuting the illicit liquor dealers.

Reports on liquor sales are being made by government agents now, it was learned. When President Wilson signs the bill, the raids are expected to start. If the president does not sign within 10 days the measure automatically becomes a law.

It is known here that in many cities, all varieties of liquor have been freely sold, despite the wartime prohibition ban, simply because existing law was inadequate. Beer of the 2.75 per cent variety has been openly dispensed and according to reports gathered by government operatives, whiskey, gin and fancy mixed drinks containing these ingredients are now being passed over the bars of saloons in numerous cities, sold in cabarets and in family liquor stations. Enforcement of the new prohibition law will make this punishable by $5000 fine and two years' imprisonment. There is a possibility that the president may

DANGER OF A RELAPSE THREATENS

Wilson's Physicians Warn Against Overexertion During Convalescence

WILL SOON GET OUT

President Hears Ukelele Records On Phonograph To Pass The Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Showing steady improvement, President Wilson spent a restful night, it was learned unofficially at the white house this morning. The rest cure is showing such good results that it is expected the president will be able to resume his daily auto rides next week.

There is still danger of a relapse, however. In cases of nervous exhaustion, it was stated, complete recovery is sometimes retarded because the patient unconsciously overdoes during convalescence.

Dr. Francis X. Dercum, nerve specialist of Philadelphia was to see Wilson today and make another examination.

Dr. Cary T. Grayson stated that the president had a good night and said he would issue his morning bulletin after a consultation with Dr. F. X. Dercum, Philadelphia nerve specialist.

Wilson again enjoyed hearing the phonograph which has been played in his bedroom. He heard a number of Hawaiian melodies, the weird strains of the Ukelele sounding thru the white house.

POISONED TOTS MUST DIE, SAYS THE SPECIALIST

Mother In Jail Believes They Will Survive Her Attempt To Murder

CAN NOT VISIT THEM

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 11.—Sanity of Mrs. Hazel Luikart, whose daughters are now dying in a Chicago hospital from poison administered by her, was inquired into today by a special commission. Transfer to the Ionia State hospital for the insane was asked on the ground that the jail here is not fitted for persons mentally ill.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Hazel Liukart, who poisoned her two little girls, because she saw no future for them, will not be at their bedside in Chicago when they die, as the specialist, Dr. Thomas A. Carter, declared they will do. Oakland-co authorities firmly refused to assent to Dr. Carter's request that the mother be called to their bedside.

"The request seems based on sentiment rather than on any beneficial effect it might have on the children," Prosecutor Gillespie said. "I do not care to take the responsibility for the shock on the mother when she finds the children will die. She thinks now they will live.

Mayor Couzens today sought to change the attitude of the authorities and enable the mother to visit her little ones.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Death stalked nearer today to the two little Luikart children of Detroit, Shirley and Edna, being treated here for bichloride of mercury poisoning, administered by their mother.

Science is waging a losing fight in its efforts to save the lives of the children, Dr. Thomas A. Carter, Chicago physician, who is attending them, declared. Death is around the corner for both, he said.

"The progress of the mercuric poison cannot now be stayed," Dr. Carter said. "It will follow its course as inevitably as the rising of the sun."

Edna, the youngest sister, showed slight improvement, but Dr. Carter declared the poison had too firm a hold on the child's body and she could not possibly shake it off.

FAIR BOARD HOPEFUL OF EVEN BREAK

Think This Year's Fair Was Financial Success Despite Unfavorable Conditions

14,000 PEOPLE FRIDAY

Barnes' Pat H Gets Second Money In 2:11 Pace; Good Time Made On Bad Track

"I think we'll come out whole," said Secretary W. B. Miller Saturday morning at the close of Coshocton's 68th county fair, which was in many respects the most successful ever held, notwithstanding unfavorable weather on Thursday, the big day of the fair. It is believed that the agricultural society will more than break even financially, altho accurate figures cannot be given until all reports are in and all accounts squared up. The fair board will meet Monday, October 20, when it is hoped to have tabulated reports of receipts and expenditures.

Eleven thousand general admission tickets were sold at the gates Friday, or 1,000 less than on Thursday. Friday's total attendance is estimated at 14,000, which is larger than the usual Friday attendance. Eleven hundred automobiles were on the grounds Friday and 1825 grandstand tickets were sold.

The race program for all three days was very good, there being more than 80 horses entered, altho higher purses were offered at Dover and pools were sold there. Coshocton had a genuine, all around fair and if the weather had continued fair there is little doubt that all previous attendance records would have been broken. Altho there were a few gambling devices and many small bets were made on the races, intoxicating liquor was not in evidence and the crowds were orderly thruout the week.

With the falling of the curtain on this year's show Friday night, most of the concession men and race horse owners were preparing to go to Lancaster for the Fairfield-co fair next week.

COSHOCTON COUNTY'S QUOTA OF ROOSEVELT MEM. FUND IS $1,500

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 11.—With less than two weeks before the intensive work of the Roosevelt Memorial campaign, the Ohio organization of the Memorial Association is actively and systematically at work.

The $500,000 which Ohio intends to raise toward the national purse of $5,000,000 for the building of suitable memorials to Theodore Roosevelt, has been apportioned off by the state committee so that each county has a definite amount for which to work. These sums are not "quotas" in the sense used in war campaigns, where appeals were made for "what each one ought to give," but are minimums aimed at to ensure the collection of the necessary amount.

Ohio The Home Of Two Greatest Dry Forces In World Says Wm. J. Bryan

SALEM, O, Oct. 11—William Jennings Bryan, touring the state in the interests of prohibition, today paid a glowing tribute to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and called attention to their state meeting at Columbus, O, Oct 14, 15, 16, 17.

"The W. C. T. U, I believe is the greatest organization among women that the world has ever known" is what Mr Bryan is telling his audiences. "It has done a very great work and it began much earlier than the anti-saloon league," he said.

"It is now nearly 50 years old and without its work prior to the organization of the anti-saloon league I doubt if the country would have been ready for the league when it was launched, but the sentiment that had been created before needed to be crystalized and the temperance forces mobilized by a political organization that was non-partisan, and so the anti-saloon league has been able to bring together Democrats and Republicans and people without regard to creed or church and moulded them into a glorious whole

"Ohio is the birthplace of the W. C T. U and of the anti-saloon league and these two organizations more than any others are responsible for the dry victory."

MORAL, DON'T BORROW

A man who was too stingy to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by a neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barb wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of trousers The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn Hearing a racket, the wife ran out upset a four-gallon churn full of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire hatch In her haste she dropped a $35 set of false teeth The baby having been left alone crawled thru the milk into the parlor, ruining a brand new $25 carpet During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line—Sebree (Ky) Banner.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcine and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcine say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint

Discolored Ceilings.

It is frequently found that the ceilings immediately above incandescent mantles become blackened. If whitewashed, it can be cleaned by being rubbed over with a mixture of starch and water of the consistency of cream. A soft flannel cloth should be used. When dry gently rub off the starch. The black stain will come with it.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pains

This is one of the smartest outfits seen this season It is a one-piece frock built on slender lines and made of tobacco brown silk duvetyn The front panel is heavily embroidered in an all-over pattern. The simplicity of the lines of the frock are very effective and permit of many adornments like the smart cape and muff.

The hat is an off-the-face shape made of black velvet and trimmed with a beautiful fancy made of monkey fur. The new long, narrow muff, which looks like nothing so much as a pomeranian puppy, is hung about milady's neck very like the muffs of a generation ago.

There is no evidence that France is weary of monkey fur. The American buyer finds that this peltry, considered so ugly by the Americans, is constantly played up in all the exclusive shops Each designer has a fling at it and tries to produce something novel. Renee used it combed out into fringe and run on squirrel fur in long gowns; another has ordered a silver and black brocaded evening wrap from the furrier which has its edges outlined by flattened monkey fur pressed out like a huge gladiola, the long strands at the upper edge: Cherult uses it as a cascaded fringe around the neck and down the front of a white velvet evening coat All of which shows there is a vogue for monkey fur.

"INEXORABLE FACTS."

Admitting the sincerity of Senator Hiram Johnson's attitude toward the proposed League of Nations, he is notoriously one of a body of men who, in their discussions of European nations, display an amazing ignorance of the most ordinary facts of history.

In the first speech he made on getting back to California to reply to President Wilson's discussion of the treaty Senator Johnson referred satirically to the War Department's recommendation for an army of 500,000 and wanted to know why such a force would be necessary if the League of Nations was to bless the world with universal peace. He then sententiously observed, "They won't get any such army at all."

Now, the people of California have heaped many honors on Hiram Johnson. They still believe in him. He is unquestionably the State's most potent political figure. And in his violent opposition to the League of Nations he has invoked repeatedly the "inexorable facts," before which, he insists, intelligence will always bow.

Well, another citizen of California has just spoken, one whom the citizens of California doubtless admire, as does the rest of the world. In point of world service during the last five years there can be no comparison between Herbert Hoover and Hiram Johnson. The achievements of Mr. Hoover, both practical and humanitarian, are past all accounting. And as regards European conditions, social, economic and industrial, Mr. Hoover speaks with a knowledge and authority which probably no other American possesses. Certainly an intelligent man, earnestly seeking the "inexorable facts" about Europe would consult Mr. Hoover in preference to Mr. Johnson.

Addressing the students of Stanford University Mr. Hoover said that "if the League of Nations is to break down, then we must at once prepare to fight." Others have said the same thing, but the judgment of no other American on this question is so thoroly informed as is that of Mr. Hoover. In proof of his verdict he related how the reactionary elements of Europe have been gaining ground in the last few months while the progressives, or idealists, who were hoping for a Europe freed from the dreadful liability of war, have been losing strength.

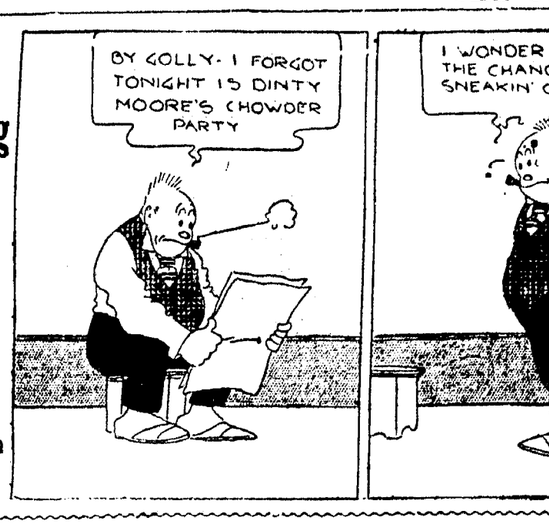

Specifically, he pointed to the fact of a renascent German militarism which now has a well officered, disciplined army of half a million on the Polish border, an army which is defying the Berlin Government, and which, sooner or later, will invade Poland if the League of Nations fails. That is only "one of Europe's powder magazines." There are many others.

In opposing the War Department's request for an army of 500,000 Senator Johnson is in accord, we believe, with public sentiment. But should his opposition to the League of Nations prevail, should his leadership succeed in defeating the project, instead of an army of 500,000, which will cost a billion dollars a year to maintain, we shall have to spend many times that sum on an army many times as big.

That is the conclusion of common sense, and it is the judgment of Herbert Hoover, based on an intimate knowledge of the "inexorable facts" which Hiram Johnson professes to revere, but which, in point of truth, he ignores.

LONG AGO

The dear old times of long ago seem far away and hazy, the good old times we used to know, before the world went crazy. We trotted to our divers tasks, contented early risers, and put our savings down in casks, nor fretted over kaisers. We followed then the baseball games, and thrashed them over nightly, and to the movies took our dames, when the lights were glowing brightly. Ah, life was then serene and sweet, a pleasant, cheerful cycle; and no one had it in for Pete, or cussed the name of Michael. But now our rages never stop, we're hot beneath our collars; if for an hour I cease to yawp, some other fellow hollers. Each voter packs around a brick, and brazen knucks we carry, we take a fall from Tom and Dick, and throw some rocks at Harry. We don't know why our heads are sore, we don't know why we're rattled but still we rant and walk the floor, as when the nations battled. Oh, for the happy golden days, when we sat round and twittered, and talked of whiskers we could raise, and not a heart embittered. Oh, for the bygone peaceful nights, when, done with daily labors, we smoked our pipes and flew our kites, like sane and kindly neighbors.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

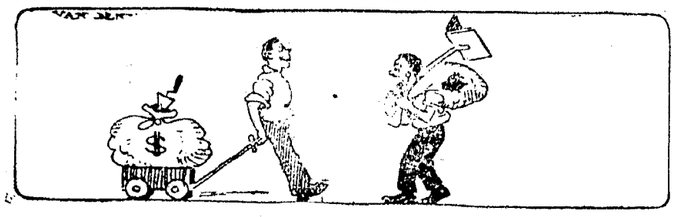

Going Up

When the mason gets two hundred dollars weekly
Sociologists will cease to think it odd
If the brawny shouldered porter of the needful brick and mortar
Gets a hundred as the chauffeur of the hod.
When the stevedore gets seven bucks an hour
It will not give other people such a shock
That his husky thewed apprentice filled with bitter discontent is
On a less amount for walloping the dock.

When the painter gets ten thousand bucks per annum,
He will not have any reason to be sore
If the help that he engages asks (and gets) the self same wages
That he used to draw himself before the war.
When the blacksmith gets the average banker's income
It should cause him no annoyance nor dismay
If the grimy visaged fellows he employs to blow his bellows
Want to draw at least a paying teller's pay.

When the plumber has to have a big retainer
He should not be filled with any great concern
When his helper gets unquiet and declares he'll start a riot
If his labors do not pay a vast return.
And the actor doesn't need to get unhappy
When the stage hand makes a loud and raucus roar
And declines to lift the curtain till he knows that he is certain
To be paid as much as Ethel Barrymore.

So, when everybody's wages have been boosted
And the workers get the wages that they ask,
When, whatever you are doing, baking, chauffing, printing, brewing,
What you get is nicely suited to your task,
Every lad that's paid a little less than you are
Will complain that he is worsted in the game.
Wages may be readjusted till the whole darn world is busted
But the same old rows will happen, just the same!

Just to Make the World Happier

PEOPLE'S FORUM

IT HAS HELPED

Editor The Tribune:

In your Thursday's edition appears a news item on the first page that should be of great interest to every voter in the county. This item says, "The city prison is empty Thursday morning of the Fair, not a single prisoner, and one year ago on the same date there were 19 occupants."

The item also could have said quite as truthfully that the retail business of Coshocton never was larger in volume for the same four months than they have been during the four months of prohibition.

You could also have said that the banks of Coshocton never did more business and never had more money to do it with than in the same period; that there have been more real estate deals in the past four months than in any previous similar period of time, that every manufacturing and advertising company in Coshocton is now swamped with orders and have "Help Wanted" signs prominently displayed, the wets for ten years have shouted and all this in spite of the fact that from the house tops that machinery always rusted in the work shops and grass grew in the streets of every saloonless town.

Yet in spite of all this moral and financial improvement the wets have forced onto Ohio another wet and dry fight, relying solely on the stay-at-home vote in November to carry Ohio back into the wet column. You don't have to vote wet to bring the saloon back. Just stay at home election day and Cincinnati will do the rest.

Unless the rural vote, the farmers and working men get busy this is liable to happen. In the circular matter sent out from Cincinnati the booze crowd offers as one reason for their bringing on the election the statement that last year the soldiers were away and would have voted for the brewers had they been at home.

There never was a viler slander cast upon the brave men who fought for and saved our country, as anyone familiar with military regulations knows. But if any one believes this falsehood he can learn from one who lead a division of these same soldiers into some of the worst hell holes in France, Col. Van Morgan Smith, the man who led the battalion of Death into the battle of St. Mihiel. He went in with 1120 men and came out with only 327. He certainly knows more about the lives of these bravest of soldiers than their wet slanderers at home. Col. Smith will speak in the Opera House Monday evening, Oct. 13.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" ... Boy, Page Mr. Diogenes

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Thots while strolling around Manhattan: "The Monkey Shop" is opened. Sell marmosets. Only live a year or so here. Cruel fad. There goes James K. Hackett. He's getting gray around the temples. Somebody or other left him a fortune. Mrs. Caruso and her son-in law going for a walk in the park. New building to be a home for aged waiters. All of them have broken arches.

Anyway, the Giants kept New York out of the annual world series' ticket scandal. Amusing vaudeville announcement: "The Marvelous Hogans in an Idyllic Skit." There's Mrs. George M. Cohen. First time I ever saw her on Broadway. Rarely leaves the pig farm at Great Neck. Jim Regan. Owns the Knickerbocker. Acts as a bouncer himself if anybody gets very rough.

Charles Sabin, the banker, entering a subway kiosk. Why kiosk? I must get some dope on that word. Always makes me think of a harem. Cranberries selling for one dollar a box. Used to be a dime a quart. More people in town than I ever saw before. The way to escape crowds in this town is to go to church.

A couple of dwarfs in an auto made for them. Probably from the Hippodrome. Think I'll go over and sting Mark Leuscher for a few passes. He's a good guy. Theatre seats selling for $3.50 at the box office. Say they will be $4 in a month. And the war tax extra! How do they do it? Still the theatrical managers have to live.

Sonia, the village cigaret girl, on an autoped. Why doesn't Tiffany's have show windows or a sign to tell what it is? Fifth Avenue thinks it is classy I think its snobbery. Dentists now charging $20 an hour. Used to get a fang yanked for a quarter. This high cost of living is breaking my heart. Wonder where I could get a little something to perk me up? I'm getting depressed. Ah! There it is—a soda fountain. Me for a nut sundae!

She was a motherly little woman, obviously here on her first visit. And one knew she was from a small town. A porter trailed after her his arms piled high with boxes and packages and a huge old fashioned carpet bag. She finally fell into the arms of a young girl—perhaps her daughter. After the greetings she began to give orders to the porter. She had blackberry jam in one package and she scolded him when he put it down heavily. He was about ten minutes sorting out her baggage for her and then placing it in shape. Finally he started to go and the little woman bestowed a generous smile upon him and he left grinning from ear to ear.

"I never saw a porter so nice to anyone" said the younger. "Anybody would think you were a queen the way he treated you."

"Well he certainly ought to"—and the brown eyes snapped—"I gave him a nickel."

Three New York newspapers give the simultaneous announcement of a Sunday feature entitled: "Does Prohibiton Pay?" And all were written by different writers. My guess is that the fellow who interviewed the cafe proprietors had little trouble in finding the answer. Fourteen eating places where drink was formerly sold went into bankruptcy last week.

The fashionable exclusive dress making establishments in Manhattan are now on West Fifty Seventh-st on the block running into Fifth-av. Most of these establishments are old private houses. There are no window displays, and the only thing to indicate what is inside is a uniformed door opener with a sign on his cap in gold braid. In fact one almost adjoins the home of Cornelius Vanderbilt.

PROGRAM FOR FIGHTING THE PROFITEERS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—Attorney General Price today brot back with him from Washington, where he conferred with United States Attorney General Palmer, a tentative program of legislation for introduction into the Ohio legislature in December.

The program is subject to change or enlargement by the prosecuting attorneys and mayors of Ohio who will meet with Price and Governor Cox at the state house in about two weeks. It contains the following idea:

A more stringent food law, embodying many of the features of the New Jersey law, conceded to be most fair of any in the United States.

A "margin of profit" law that would limit the percentage of profit a producer, wholesaler, jobber or retailer might make on food products.

A law providing severe penalty for profiteering.

Legislation relative to "fair price" selling lists.

Price said Attorney General Palmer would be present at the meeting of prosecutors and mayors and before them unfold in detail his ideas for fighting the high cost of living.

Treasury Department Official Strikes at Old H. C. L.

HE URGES PEOPLE TO SAVE

Declares That People Must Return to Policy of Careful Buying and Regular Saving—Country-Wide Appeal Is Made to the People to Buy War Savings Stamps and Bring Prices Down.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—"The people in many parts of the United States are virtually in league with the profiteers, according to William Mather Lewis, Director of the Savings Division of the Treasury department.

In a letter to H. P. Wolfe, State Savings Director, Mr. Lewis declared that "a veritable orgy of extravagant buying is going on" He said that the reaction from the careful use of money during the war time is widespread and disturbing "With an abnormal demand and a limited output, nothing else can be expected than high prices," said Mr Lewis.

He asserted that the people must return to the policy of careful buying and regular saving if they wish to help the situation He explained that the treasury department, in order to combat this artificial situation is intensifying and speeding up its thrift campaign A country-wide appeal is being made to the people to buy War Savings Stamps and thus save money, thereby bringing down high prices.

MONTANA AFTER OHIO

Western State Trying to Get War Savings Champion Title From Buckeyes.

Columbus, O. — (Special.) — Little Montana wants to top Ohio's War Savings record. The governor of this western state has just issued an appeal for Montana people to buy War Savings Stamps by the thousands during October that the state may lead the nation Montana now stands second to Ohio in per capita sales for 1919.

"Its not very likely that Ohio people after maintaining a lead for nearly two years will relinquish it to a little state like Montana," said State Savings Director H. P. Wolfe. "We expect to sell more War Savings Stamps in Ohio during October than any other state in the nation. We have consistently done this since the first of the year and we wo not intend to let up now Of course Ohio will continue to lead the nation," said Mr. Wolfe.

COLUMBUS CARRIERS ARE WORLD'S CHAMPS

Columbus, O — (Special.) —The mail carriers of this city have again earned the title of Champion War Stamps Salesmen among the letter carriers of the United States. Mail carriers here during September sold a quarter of a million of dollars' worth of War Savings Stamps. This record has never been equaled by the mail carriers of any city of like size in the United States

The Columbus carriers are to be awarded medals for their excellent work. They have been commended by the Postmaster General of the United States.

BOY SCOUTS ARE HELPING

Stage War Savings Stamp Drive in Columbus to Repay Kindness.

Columbus, O. — (Special.) — Boy Scouts here are staging a War Savings Stamp drive during October. They are pledged to sell $150,000 worth of War Stamps.

In speaking of the drive, James P. Fitch, Columbus Scout Executive, said: "It was the War Savings Stamp organization in Ohio that conducted the Boy Scout campaign in Ohio last summer and raised more than $50,000 for the Scouts. Surely it is only fitting that the Boy Scouts should do something in return. We are going to raise our goal in Columbus and I hope that the Boy Scouts in other cities in Ohio will conduct like drives for the War Savings organization."

OHIO IS NATION'S THRIFTIEST STATE

Columbus, O.—(Special)—Ohio is the nation's thriftiest state. Every other state in the Union is hailing her as such. And its all because she has sold more War Savings Stamps.

During August Ohio sold more War Stamps than all the New England states combined, more than New York and Pennsylvania together and thrice as many as Illinois, second highest state Ohio sold one-fifth of the War Savings Stamps sold in the nation during August.

SENATORS BEGIN PROBE OF STEEL STRIKE AT MILLS

PITTSBURG, Pa, Oct. 11—First hand probing of the steel strike was to begin with the arrival of the senate labor committee here today.

Senators headed by chairman Kenyon arrived on an early train and prepared to visit steel towns in the Pittsburg district during the day.

McKeesport, Braddock, Duquesne and Homestead, are on the slate but it was doubtful if the committee could cover the ground marked out. Senators plan to go into the mills and question workers. They will knock unannounced at kitchen doors of the strikers' home and find out for themselves how families are living Housewives will be asked whether their husbands wages are sufficient.

Conditions of the foreign workers will be given close attention. Senator Kenyon is convinced that Americanization legislation must be one of the results of the senate investigation and he will gather ammunition for his fight today.

Only four members arrived this morning, Chairman Kenyon, Iowa, McKellar, Tennessee; Sterling, Republican, South Dakota and Phipps, Republican, Colorado. Senator Walsh, Mass. will arrive tomorrow.

The committee may go on to Gary and the Chicago districts, if members are sure no treaty votes will take place during their absence.

The apparent deadlock in the strike situation has convinced senators more than ever that preventative measures against another industrial clash must be taken.

Another Editor in Bad.

According to the Wichita Eagle, an editor in a near-by town has moved his press over against the door and is having his meals sent in at the window since he let this get by in a society item: "Mrs. Catt's popularity is evidenced by her mangy friends in this vicinity."—Kansas City Star.

False Diamonds Easily Detected.

In former days, even rock-crystal passed for diamond. Only within comparatively recent years has there been accurate knowledge of gem-stones. But the modern expert cannot be deceived. A colorless beryl, for example, yields when well cut a very brilliant and diamond-like stone, but nobody could pass it off on a fairly intelligent pawnbroker for a real diamond.

SENATOR NELSON DEFENDS JAPS IN SENATE ADDRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Only 'capitalistic exploiters' will protest against allowing Japan to develop China, Senator Nelson, Minnesota, declared in a speech today.

Shantung should be returned to China, however, Nelson said.

"What Great Britain has done for South Africa, Japan will no doubt in a measure do for Korea, tho on different lines," Nelson said "And as to only half developed southeastern Manchuria, the seat of the Manchuria dynasty, which proved of no great blessing to China, what harm can happen to our country or to any of the nations of the west from the further development of this country under the auspices of Japan?

Only those capitalistic exploiters and promoters who hover for prey in backward and dormant countries will feel called upon to protest. A developed orient, developed for production, trade and commerce, for law and order, cannot but prove of advantage to our country and to the whole civilized world

"While I am clear that Shantung should be restored to China and I believe it will be, let it be remembered that except for the war Germany would have retained her hold on Shantung and as between her and Japan, I cannot see why any of us should prefer Germany.

"Since Commodore Perry opened the doors of Japan, she has become the most progressive nation in the Orient, while China has in the meantime made little or no progress. Japan may be fairly called the Yankee of the Orient. But bright and energetic as the Japanese are still we do not want them in our midst Their proper place for expansion is the Orient, in the midst of the yellow race, where they may be able to extend their civilization and energy to their non progressive neighbors The population of Japan is congested and manifestly needs a field for expansion. We do not want the Japanese nor for that matter are they wanted anywhere on the Western Hemisphere. Their proper field is the Far East, the Orient, where the white race cannot be at home. Hermit Korea, in spite of all that has been said to the contrary is reaping th ebenefits of the progressive energy of Japan

"When all other arguments against the treaty fail those wh oopenly or covertly desire the defeat of the treaty resort a scare about these countries and paint in lurid colors the threatened dangers from Japan in the east and England in the west."

DEADLOCK IN PROPOSAL OF LABOR HOLDS UP THE CONF.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—A deadlock on organized labor's proposal for immediate arbitration of the steel strike loomed before the national industrial conference

The deadlock was in the central committee of fifteen, to which the arbitration proposal was referred. Indications were that the conference would have to adjourn early for lack of business to transact until the deadlock is broken and the central committee reports

The only other business that could come before the conference at this morning s session was receiving eleven proposals prepared by the major group of delegates representing capital These proposals, under the rules must be automatically referred to the central committee without discussion.

The central committee considered the arbitration proposal all yesterday afternoon and stayed in session until nearly midnight. Then the meeting broke up, the committeemen being unable to agree as to whether they should report with a recommendation for favorable action by the conference.

Labor members of the central committee want to make a favorable reply on the steel arbitration proposal, according to information from the committee room

Some members representing the capital and public groups, opposed it at a late hour last night

If the committee becomes convinced it cannot reach an agreement, it may report the proposal without action. It cannot pigeonhole it if the rules are obeyed, labor men say.

When the resolution finally gets to the floor, the first big fight of the conference is expected To pass, it must receive an "aye" vote from the chairman of each of the three major groups. How the chairman shall cast the group's vote is decided by a decision in the group which must be a majority.

Voting in the public group will be E H. Gary, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who informed the congressional investigating committee he would not arbitrate the strike Gary today refused to discuss the arbitration proposal before the conference.

WORLD'S LARGEST FARM AGENCY

We maintain large general offices in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, and Jacksonville for the convenience of farm seekers.

The past year we sold $7,840,668.00 worth of country real estate (241,750 acres) as a result of which approximately 20,000 people changed their place of residence, to their own satisfaction and profit.

It is easy for us to sell farms because we have a nation wide reputation for value-giving and square dealing that makes selling a comparatively easy proposition for us.

Our money and our service form an irresistible combination that invariably does the work. And don't lose sight of this all-important fact:

WE USE OUR MONEY TO FIND A BUYER FOR YOUR FARM.

We advertise in thousands of news papers, farm papers and magazines. We have at all times in our files the names of over 100,000 prospective farm buyers.

NO EXCLUSIVE LISTINGS

Our method of doing business is based upon fairness and justice. We do not believe in owner's listing their farms exclusively with only one agent, for the reason that we do not consider it fair to an owner that the sale of his property should be tied up with any one agent. We have the best farm-selling plan in existence. This plan does not obligate you in any way, whatever, when you list your farm with us, nor at any future time, unless we effect a sale in which event the commission for our services comes to us as agreed upon when your property is listed with our agency.

OUR TERMS

We make no charges for listing, advertising or withdrawing. If we do not make a sale, there is absolutely no expense to you. You pay us no fees of any kind unless we sell your farm. Further more you are at liberty to sell the farm yourself, to employ other agents to sell it, or to withdraw it from our agency, you would owe us nothing in either case.

WE ARE ENTITLED TO OUR COMMISSION ONLY WHEN THE SALE IS MADE TO A CUSTOMER FURNISHED BY US.

If you want to sell your farm, write today for full information to

SARA LIDDLE ASKS FOR DIVORCE AND HER MAIDEN NAME

Sara V. Liddle, thru her attorney, Lloyd N. Staats, has commenced suit in probate court against Thomas H. Liddle, asking for divorce, alimony, restoration to her maiden name, Sara V. Nettles, and an injunction restraining him from removing or interfering with the household furniture or from drawing any money from the Coshocton National bank or assigning the wages due him from J. B. Clow & Sons.

They were married October 27, 1906, at Lawrenceburg, Ind., and have no children. Mrs. Liddle charges her husband with extreme cruelty and gross neglect of duty, alleging that on August 3, 1919, and divers other occasions he struck and beat her and that he curses her and makes life miserable for her. She says he fails to provide the necessities of life or pay the rent, gas bills and electric light bills, altho he is strong and able to earn about $5.60 per day at the Clow plant. She says he fails and neglects to buy her clothing, compelling her to leave the house and work out to get funds to clothe her and help keep up the table.

Mrs. Liddle alleges that her husband constantly consorts with females of bad repute for chastity and has committed adultery on numerous occasions. She says their property consists of household furniture now located on the third floor of the Schaich building, Main-st, Coshocton and that she believes he has about $71 on deposit in the bank. She says he is threatening to remove the furniture and place the money and other property beyond her reach. A temporary injunction has been granted by Probate Judge Milo C. Ely, who has also ordered the defendant to pay $25 to the plaintiff's attorney and the $71.55 in the bank is ordered paid into court to secure the costs.

The defendant stated to The Tribune and Times-Age that the case has been settled and dismissed but so far as can be learned the plaintiff has not agreed to any settlement and the case will probably be heard next month. It is claimed by Mrs. Liddle that her husband continues to annoy her and that he abused her Friday night.

The Coshocton National bank and J. B. Clow & Sons are named as defendants in the case.

EVERY CONTRIBUTOR BECOMES A MEMBER

Roosevelt Memorial Association Enrolls Every Donor to Its Fund.

ALLIES JOIN THE MOVEMENT

The Philippines, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico Organize to Help.

EVERY person who contributes to the Roosevelt Memorial fund during the campaign which opens shortly will become a permanent member of the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

"It will make no difference whether that contribution is one penny or one thousand dollars," said Arthur L. Garford, state chairman.

"It would be contrary to the American principles upon which the Roosevelt Memorial Association is founded to fix any amount requisite for membership. Any contribution, large or small, will entitle the person to membership.

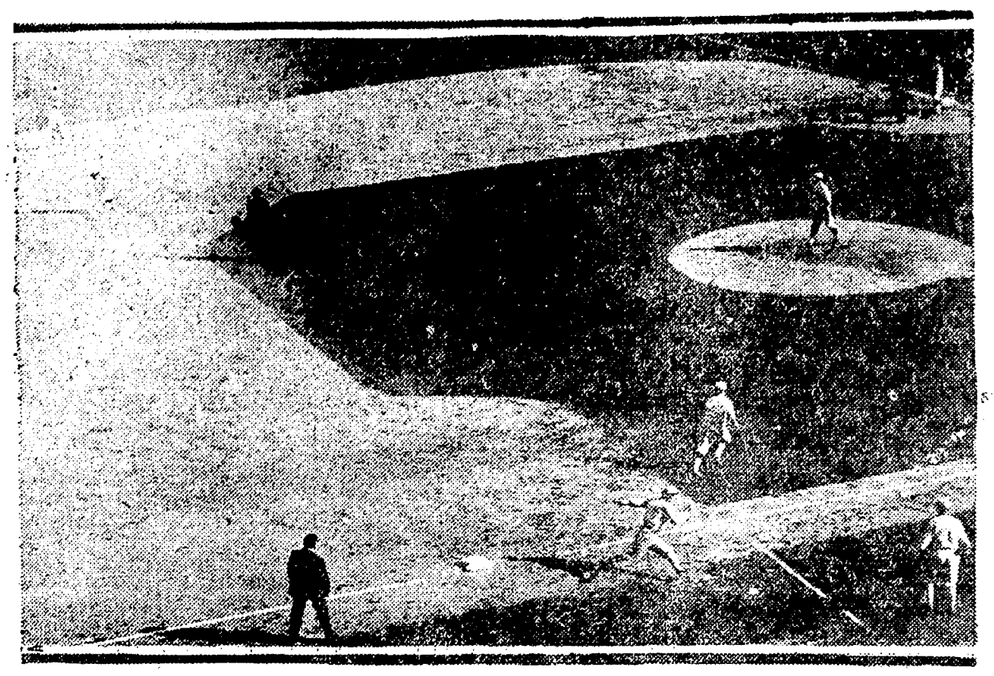

"The countries of the Allies, whose cause Theodore Roosevelt espoused so valiantly in the darkest days before victory came, are joining Americans in this movement. Likewise in the Philippines, Porto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii, and in the farthest corner where the Stars and Stripes fly, men and women are preparing to honor his memory during the week set apart by this association. The officers of the Ohio state organization know that they have only to explain to the public the plans for this campaign week in order to receive enthusiastic support from the people of Ohio."

John Tyler's Career.

On March 29, 1790, John Tyler, tenth president of the United States, was born in Charles City county, Virginia. Tyler was inaugurated vice president in 1841 and in the April following he was inaugurated as president to fill the place of William Henry Harrison, who had died. He served as president until 1845. After the organization of the Confederacy Tyler was elected a member of the Confederate congress. He died at Richmond, January 18, 1862.

WEAVER SCORING IN CHICAGO'S BIG INNING—SIXTH GAME

In the sixth inning of the sixth world series game Weaver, the first man up for the White Sox, popped up a Texas leaguer that went for a double when Kopf and Duncan played an Alphonse-Gaston act. Jackson then singled to center and Weaver galloped home from second base. Photo shows him rounding third. The White Sox scored three runs in this inning, tying the score.

Explaining "Yankee."

Yankee "was a cant, favorite word with farmer Jonathan Hastings of Cambridge about 1713. . . . A Yankee good horse, or Yankee cider and the like. . . . The students (of Harvard) used to hire horses of him; their intercourse with him, and his use of the term on all occasions, led them to adopt it."—Will Gordon, "Independence of United States," volume 1, letter 12, page 482.

POLITICS FORGOTTEN ON ROOSEVELT BODY

Democrats, "Regular" Republicans and Progressives of 1912 All There

AGREE ON JUST ONE POINT

Inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt's Life Must Not Be Lost.

Cleveland, Ohio.—With the announcement of the state organization for the Roosevelt Memorial Association, disappears any notion that the heralded fund campaign can be considered as a movement even touched with partisanship.

Leaders of the Roosevelt campaign back in 1912 are just about equally prominent in the personnel with Democrats and "regular" Republicans.

Arthur L. Garford, of Elyria, state chairman, was a leader in the Progressive party of the state, as was James R. Garfield, of Mentor, a member of the executive committee of the Memorial Association of Ohio. But Governor James M. Cox is also a member of that committee, and ex-Governor Judson Harmon is a member of the national committee. Supreme Justice E. S. Matthias, of Van Wert; Joseph G. Butler, Jr., of Youngstown; D. Q. Morrow, of Hillsboro, and other members of the State Executive Committee were "regular" Republicans back in those days of the party split, while others on the board have never taken any active part in politics in any party.

Harry Dwight Smith, of Cleveland, is secretary of the National Association of Advertising Agencies and head of the Fuller & Smith Agency in Cleveland; Myers Y. Cooper, of Cincinnati, is one of the largest real estate men in the state; A. H. Heisey, of Newark, is the head of the big glass industry there. They are all business men primarily with only the degree of political interest which every patriot must have.

L. J. Taber, of Barnesville, president of the State Grange, is another member of the executive committee; as is D. Meade Massie, of Chillicothe, whose splendid work on the Soldiers' Camp Committee dimmed even the place he held in the people's memory as a former state senator.

In other words, every sort of business and public interest is represented in the Roosevelt Memorial Association. The one factor the members have in common is the thought expressed by Chairman Garford:

"America lost a wonderful inspirer when Theodore Roosevelt died. She must not lose the inspiration of his life. This association is formed to ensure us all against that loss. The campaign we are going to make for funds for a memorial to him is for that insurance."

GOVERNMENT

veto the bill on the grounds that it is too drastic, but this is not considered likely. If he should do so, the prohibitionists in congress appear to have sufficient strength to pass it over his veto.

It was learned at the white house that Wilson's first action withregard to the measure will be to send it to the attorney general for an opinion as to its constitutionality and legality. Secretary Tumulty said he did not know what attitude the president would take toward the bill.

The outlook for lifting the wartime prohibition ban before constitutional prohibition goes into effect in January appeared dim today.

As a warning to those who are handling liquor, the internal revenue bureau, it was learned, will issue a statement of policy as soon as the new law becomes effective.
